Transit decides to distribute Agility Products amid pandemic

| A Manufacturer & Distributor Like no Other

QUEBEC CITY, CANADA (MAY 7TH, 2020) —

Even the pandemic has not prevented Transit, the largest auto parts manufacturer and distributor in Eastern Canada, of joining forces with Agility Auto Parts, a US-based automotive product developer, to make high-quality fuel pumps, module assemblies and fuel tank straps available to the Canadian aftermarket.

It is always a risky business to introduce new product lines in the market during a crisis, but cars still need to be repaired. Stephan Guay, Transit's President, believes the automotive sector should provide the best quality products at the right price for consumers who may be struggling financially.

Stephan said: "I added Agility's products to our offer because they have been in the fuel pump business for 25 years. Agility produces the same great quality products as leading brands but at a fraction of the price. There is a lot of price gouging in the market for fuel pumps and module assemblies, and Agility's products are a trustworthy alternative that we're proud to distribute." Agility's fuel pumps, module assemblies and fuel tank straps are now available from all eight of Transit warehouses.
